Friends, TCA students, faculty, administration and alumni, the website team is thrilled to announce that we are going live with revamped TCA website on Friday! Please visit us at <http://www.tesocollegealoet.sc.ug/> and peruse the new Teso College website at your leisure. TCA is meeting the 21st century head-on with our new professionally-designed and curated website. Now everything you need to know is at your fingertips. You can easily search for upcoming events on our calendar page, read our articles at the Hub, make announcements and take advantage of the resources in the “At Work” section. If you’re interested in TCA’s magazine, The Pelican, you can read about it on the website, too!

Parents who are interested in sending their sons to Teso College Aloet can read all about the faculty and staff of the school, learn about the curriculum, look at our exam results and read about student experiences from the pens of the students themselves. Everything you need to know about Teso College is now gathered together in one place for you!

We would like to thank the website design team, the administration and, of course, the Old Boys, without whose help none of this would have been possible.

The cost of the website redesign was $1,300.00
